THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE Bluejackets' Manual, originally prepared in 1902 by Lieutenant Ridley McLean, United States Navy, and revised in 1914, 1916, 1922, and 1927, has been revised again by the United States Naval Institute as authorized and approved by the Bureau of Navigation. The training courses of the Bureau of Navigation have furnished a medium for issuing information of a specialized or technical character to the service. The purpose of this revision has been to modernize the manual so that it agrees in substance with the latest training courses and includes such other information as would tend to make an able seaman and a thorough man-o'-war's man.

The Manual is divided in the following parts:

Part I. For the recruit.
Part II. (A to N) The subjects which every man on board ship should know.
Part III. Rudimentary seamanship and gunnery.
Part IV. Advanced seamanship and gunnery.
Part V. Physical drills.
Part VI. Landing force.
Part VII. Miscellaneous.

The chapters in the Bluejackets' Manual which give the details of the manual of arms, infantry, artillery, extended order, and landing force are sections of the revised Landing Force Manual which have not yet been printed.

FOREWORD TO NINTH EDITION (REVISED)

This revised edition is necessary because of the changes in the landing force regulations; otherwise, except for a few minor corrections, it is the same as the eighth edition published in 1938.
